ME & MY OLD MAN

Why do you want to record your parent's life story?

Nine ways to say it to your mum or dad.

Pick the one that's true →

1

If I'm honest, there's so much about your life that I don't know.

You may not have told me, I may not have asked, so this is a way to fix that.

2

I want to hear the stories of your life, in your own voice.

Not my memory of them, while I still can.

3

I think about my grandparents and realise I know almost nothing about them.

I don’t want that to happen with you too.

4

I want to know where I actually come from.

The history, the “why am I like this.”

5

I want to say thank you properly, out loud.

For everything you've done for me.

6

I want my own kids,
and whoever comes
after them, to know
you as fully as they can.

Not just me.

7

I want us to feel closer.

Not in a big dramatic way. Just closer.

8

I want you to look back at everything you've done and feel proud of it.

9

I want something that lasts.

Something my kids can put on in twenty years and hear you again.

Pick the one that’s true. That’s your opening line.

Free guide, link in the comments.